Mathematics is both a language of its own and a way of thinking; applying mathematics to economics reveals that mathematics is indeed inherent to economic life. The objective of this book is to teach mathematical knowledge and computational skills required for macro and microeconomic analysis, as well as econometrics. In addition, I hope it conveys a deeper understanding and appreciation of ...

FOUNDATIONS COMPUTATIONAL MATHEMATICS

The Society for the Foundations of Computational Mathematics supports fundamental research in computational mathematics and its applications, interpreted in the broadest sense. As part of its endeavour to promote research across a wide spectrum of subjects concerned with computation, the Society regularly organises conferences and specialist workshops which bring together leading researchers working in diverse fields that impinge on various aspects of computation. Major conferences of the ...

Given a Euclidean space  $E$  (a real inner product space) and a linear map  $\delta: E \rightarrow M_n$ , we denote the range and nullspace of  $\delta$  by  $R(\delta)$  and  $N(\delta)$ , respectively.

Indeed, historically FoCM started its existence as an outcome of such a conference! FoCM conferences follow a set pattern: mornings are devoted to plenary talks, while in the afternoon the conference divides into a number of workshops, each devoted to a different theme within the broad theme of foundations of computational mathematics.
